FRIDAY, APRIL 7.

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

FOR THE SENATE.
We are authorized to announce Hon.
W. Fred Long as a candidate for the office of State Senator in this the Seventh Senatorial District, subject to the action of the Republican party.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.
We are authorized to announce Hon.
R. C. Jarnagin, of Beaver Dam, as a candidate for the nomination for Representative, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Jay Gould founded a family and made the name famous. Helen Gould has made it great.

JUDGING from the pulse of the State press it appears that Goebel and Stone have combined to hoodoo Hardin.

THE Herald accuses Capt. Stone of accusing Thomas Jefferson of being the original free silver man of the country. How dare they slander the illustrious dead?

THE Beaver Dam road is improving. All those attempting to travel over it since last week are accounted for except an insurance agent and a free silver candidate for a minor State office.

AN exchange says: Republicans are just now lying low and whetting their knives for each other. Goeb, the Democrats have passed the whetting period—using them to the great delight of the whetting crowd.

WHAT? Is Capt. Stone actually contemplating a race on one leg with Judge Taylor for the gubernatorial plum? Such an undertaking would be great indeed for a man with two good legs and half the front of Stone.

CAPT. Stone spoke at the courthouse Monday to about 150 voters. He devoted his time to free silver and Hardin and never mentioned Goebel's name. He was on Hardin's neck here while Goebel was on his toes at Morganfield.

THE Fulton County Guard, an influential Democratic paper, published right down in Capt. Stone's district, carries General Hardin's name at the head of its editorial column. The Guard says that while General Hardin was fighting his first battle in 1895 Captain Stone allied himself with the gold men and helped to bring about Hardin's defeat for Governor.

A DEMOCRATIC candidate for a State office said in a speech here that he had never had the pleasure of visiting Hartford but once before and then at a time when he could spend but a few hours in the city. An old citizen says he thinks the gentleman came here on his former visit with Lyon's men who burnt the courthouse in 1864 and that his hurry was occasioned by a company of union soldiers. Ohio county should endorse his candidacy with a vim.

THE Democrats are reported to be contemplating asking the American people to turn their government over to them next year. What they want with it we find it difficult to conclude.
They tried it from 1884 to 1888 and again from 1892 to 1896, and during each experiment one national disaster followed another like Southern birds in their autumnal flight. The records of those two periods are one unbroken story of human suffering, resulting from idle factories and mines and wrecked and ruined industries, climaxed by a hungry horde of idle laborers marching on to the capital at Washington to beg at the doors of Congress for work or bread. In the light of such disastrous failures we find it difficult to believe that the Democratic party is seriously yearning to repeat the experiences of 1884 and 1892.

Two weeks ago the Filipinos were concentrating their forces about Manila and threatening the city. The Tagals were coming in from all sections of the country to aid in the final attack upon the city, and the American forces. Today their forces are scattered and demoralized. They have been driven from behind fortifications which they were months in building city after city fell. Victory succeeded victory, until finally their boasted capital fell before the irresistible onward march of our gallant forces.
With every stronghold lost and his forces scattered Aguinaldo can only hope to maintain a guerrilla warfare, and certain it is that he cannot maintain that but a very short time. Our gallant soldiers will meet him in any game at which he may wish to play.
Thus far no victory has been lost nor a single reverse sustained, none are anticipated. The Mexican war ended without the loss of a single victory.

The achievements of the Spanish American war will be remembered and transmitted as a heritage to succeeding ages as a tribute to the valor of the greatest liberty loving people under sun. Upon the status of liberty should be written "Another war for human freedom fought and never a victory lost."

FOLKS whose lives are prolonged far beyond the ordinary period of terrestrial habitation become subjects of universal interest. A Pennsylvania paper tells of an old colored lady living up among the Alleghenies who was born 132 years ago and was once house girl in the house of George Washington. The strangest thing about these who have long since passed the century mark is that nearly all of them are colored people and have at one time or another belonged to the family of his country. Our esteemed friend Mose Mattingly, besides being the best miller in western Kentucky, is also a capital story teller, tellers of an old lady living in Spencer county, Indiana, by the name of Hannah Skaggs, who is doubtless the oldest living human being in the world. Aunt Hannah is also a colored lady, but she never belonged to George Washington.
Mr. Mattingly has known aunt Hannah well since his boyhood and says while she does not know her age she is able to recite from memory certain events in history that gives her a period of experience dating back at least a couple of centuries. Aunt Hannah says that during Washington's memorable winter at Valley Forge one of her grandsons made daily trips into camp with a cart load of parsnips and pumpkins for the soldiers. She also distinctly remembers seeing the saw fall from which the charter oak sprang, and says that the mellow tones of old liberty bell that famous night still linger in her ears as the music of yesterday. Aunt Hannah is still hale and hearty and does most of the washing for Spencer county.

FROM THE STATE PRESS.

Mr. Bryan's admirers should see to it that there is more than 45 cents worth of honor in that $1 dinner.—Washington Post.

Senator Allen, of Nebraska, says he retires from public life without regret. This seems to make it nani-mons.—Chicago News.

A singular freak of nature was witnessed last Monday night by the family of Mr. Andy Divinc. During the rain and thunderstorm, the lightning came down the chimney and completely smashed a clock, doing no other damage. The lightning must have found its way down on the outside of the chimney, as the clock on the mantel was the only object injured.— Harrodsburg Sayings.

The wages of half a million working-men have been advanced, and now comes another testimonial to the growing wealth of the American farmer. Statistician Hyde, of the Department of Agriculture, estimates that the increase in value of farm annals since January 1, 1898, is $108, 355,482, making the present value $1,997,110,407. The calamity howler finds his occupation gone indeed.— Courier-Journal.

Master Charlie Dugger has a few relics of the civil war that he discovered on a hillside in the Jasper fields near town, which had been used by a washout during the late heavy rains. Among the lot was an old bayonet that had been bent and used as a pot-rack by some old soldier boy, besides a lot of Enfield and Springfield rifle balls and musket balls, and a large brass slide that was worn on the cross belt. The place of his find was occupied as a camping ground for Union troops in 1862, and it used to be told that an old soldier secreted a handful or two of gold coin somewhere near there and afterward died without removing it or telling of the location.—Somerset Paragon.

County Clerk Morgan, of Bedford, has the Krag-Jorgensen gun which his brother Harry brought from Porto Rico. The gun is guaranteed to the Government to shoot accurately 1,800 yards, but it will shoot three or four miles. Mr. Morgan, with several others, tested the shooting qualities of this death-dealer the other day.
They went down in a valley back of Bedford and fired at a black locust tree six feet in circumference, the ball going through, struck a rock on the side of the hill a glancing lick and went two or three feet in the ground.
It was dug out and found to be as perfect as when put in the gun. It was also fired at a solid sycamore tree much larger than the locust with the same result.—Milton News.

Mr. William J. Bryan is in argument of another leg. There are three stones on which he wishes to stand with a foot on each. One is silver, one expansion and the other trusts.
The leg which is resting on the silver has been paralyzed and cannot be moved, but the other one keeps wagging widely between expansion and trusts. Unless either the expansion or the trust rock is taken away and buried or Mr. Bryan gets a dime-museum third leg the poor, old paralytic member will have to bear the whole weight of 1900, and Mr. William Jennings Bryan knows what that means. He sneers at the "White Man's Burden," but he bows with profound reverence before the "Silver Man's Burden."—New York Press.

Opposition to Mr. Blackburn is not a crime, nor should the fact that Gen.
Hardin does not favor Mr. Blackburn for United States Senator, though we have no authority for assuming that his preference is for some other person, and doubt if it is, have any bearing upon his candidacy for Governor.
He will make just as good an executive if he is opposed to Mr. Blackburn as he would if he supported him.
Aside from the effect on Gen. Hardin, of Capt. Stone's charges, we believe the statesman from the Purchase made a grave mistake in giving voice to them. Those Democrats who were inclined to support him because of his dignified course are sorely disappointed, and now that his strongest claim on their suffrage has been impaired, they are inclined to favor some other candidate.

Capt. Stone was unfortunate in undertaking to prove that he was in good silver company when he names Asher Caruth and Albert S. Berry as specimens of his associates when he voted with Bryan, Reed, Digley and Josiah Patterson on those gold bonds. Caruth and Berry were notorious gold bugs at that time but both have since come into line, and even Josiah now claims to be "regular" again. The fact, however, that Stone voted on the opposite side from Bryan, Bland, Bailey, Ellis and Goodnight is overwhelming and fatal proof that he was on the wrong side. In undertaking now to justify his votes at that time, he makes the matter worse. If he was right, Bryan and his associates were wrong and his associates were wrong and there is a prevailing faith in the Democratic party that Bryan never voted wrong.
—Messenger.

In Commissioner Clark's court a day or so since a member of the numerous Smith family was a witness.
This particular Smith bore the cognomen of Joel and hailed from the classic hills of Clay county. Chief of Police Howard observed several suggestive enlargements on him—in fact, they could be noticed on each lip.
Finally the Chief observed when he moved in some way that he could see under his coat that one of the bulges at least was a pistol. Procuring a warrant he placed Joel under arrest and proceeded to take the pistol from him. Imagine his surprise when he found three of these on him, one a 38-caliber in his pocket and a 44 and a 45 strapped around him. Upon expressing some surprise at finding such a walking arsenal, Smith very coolly remarked that he had another in his saddlebags; that he had come some distance from home and friends and wanted to be in condition to defend himself in case he got into any trouble. The pistols were all the best make of Colt's revolvers, shooting six times each and were loaded with long cartridges. Judge Smith, being of the same name as the prisoner, though no relation, was lenient with him, and only imposed one fine of $25 and ten days in the bastille, where the gentleman from Clay now languishes.
In the meantime, his armory will be sold and the proceeds credited to his fine. If his gun bring their value he will not have much to pay and will get out soon after serving his ten days' sentence.—Placerville Courier.

Woman Suffrage.

N. J. R. (Sewellville, Ohio): Will you please give me the names of all the States in the Union in which woman have the power to vote?
Women have equal suffrage with men at elections in Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and Idaho. In Kansas women have municipal suffrage. In some form, mainly as to city school bonds and on school matters, woman may vote in the following States and Territories: Arizona, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin.

Severely Injured.

To loss of both his legs is the penalty paid by Ed Scavin, a section-hand, for trying to get off a moving train. He was taken to the Norton Infirmary early Monday morning, where Dr. W. O. Roberts amputated both of his legs above the knees.
Scavin was with a section gang of the L. and N. railroad on the Short-line division, with headquarters at Glencoe. Saturday night, with others, he was returning from Lagrange on a construction train. At Pendleton Scavin attempted to get off the train while it was in motion. He fell under the wheels and his legs were cut off close below the knee. He was quickly brought to Louisville on a special train for treatment. He was doing well last evening and his in-tal results.—Courier-Journal.

Work of the Red Cross.

The Red Cross is now establishing in Cuba, at the request of the Government, a hospital service to assist in the care of the sick and homeless people of the island. In the Philippines, owing to the active operations now being conducted by American Army, and the approach of the rainy season in the tropics, the society is increasing the hospital staff already there, assisting in the care of the sick and the wounded.

DEWEY GUNNERS.

Detailed Report of Ma- nila Bay Shooting.

Every Vessel of the Enemy's Fleet Was Fairly Riddled Before Being Sunk.

Washington, April 4.—Lieut. John M. Elliott, the intelligence officer of the cruiser Baltimore, has forwarded to the Navy Department under date of January 1, 1899, a report on the effects of the gun fire of Dewey's fleet upon the Spanish war vessels in the battle of Manila. The report is based upon a personal examination of all the vessels, personal conversations with officers aboard and extracts from Admiral Montojo's official report. It describes in detail the effect of every shot from the American fleet and proves that Montojo's vessels were riddled by a perfect storm of shot and shell from the American guns. There was a much larger percentage of hits at Manila than at Santiago. This is accounted for by the fact that Dewey's fleet made a deliberate attack with most of the enemy's ships at rest.
While the appearance of Cervera's fleet at Santiago was unexpected, and it was a running fight. Lieut. Elliott makes the following summary of the number and size of the shots which struck each of the Spanish vessels:

Christina, five 8 inch, five 5 inch and thirteen other large shell; seven 6 pounders and nine other projectiles.
Castilla, two 6 inch, twelve 5 inch, four other large shell; three 6 pounders and sixteen other small shell. Survivors also tell of three 8 inch shells which burst on the forenoon deck forward amidship and aft, causing fires that could not be controlled. Don Antonio de Ulloa, four 8 inch, three 6 inch; one 5 inch and fourteen other large shell; ten 5 pounders and one other small shell. Don Juan de Austria, two 5 inch or 8 inch; four 5 inch, five 6 pounders and two other small shell.
Isla de Luzon, three hits before she retired behind the arsenal and was sunk by her own crew. Isla de Cuba, to which Montojo transferred his flag after the Christina was abandoned, four 6 pounders and one of unknown caliber. (She, too, was sunk by the Spaniards.) Marques del Dero, one 8 inch, one 6 inch and three 6 pounders. Velasco, she took no part in the action, but was hit by a stray shell and was sunk by the Spaniards.
Gen. Lazo, took no part in the engagement, and was exploded by the Spaniards. The Argos was also out of the fight, but was struck by a large shell and was scuttled by the Spaniards. The total number of hits ob-servable was 141, but there were doubtless many others, especially of small caliber, through the rigging, and burned superstructure of the ships.

After painstaking inquiry, Lieut.
Elliott makes the following report of casualties:

Vessels.	Killed.	Wounded.	Total.
Riena Cristina.	130	90	220
Castilla.	23	80	103
Isla de Cuba.	2	2	4
Isla de Luzon.	6	6	12
Don Juan de Austria.	22	22	44
Don Antonio Ulloa.	10	18	28
Marques del Dero.	6	4	10
Shore batteries.	6	4	10

Totals. . . 167 214 381
The following points in connection with the examination of the Spanish ships are emphasized by Lieut. Eli-liott:

First—The side of iron steel built cruisers do not arrest projectiles enough to explode them.
Second—The incendiary effect of bursting eight-inch shells is great, and far greater than would seem proportionate to that of lower calibers.
Third—At ranges over 2,500 yards the gun shields of cruisers are in no sense a protection, but insure the annihilation of the gun's crew and the disabling of the gun if struck by a large projectile.
Fourth—Warships of the present day will generally be placed hors de combat by conflagration and the destruction of their personnel before they are sunk by gun fire.

Mrs. Place's Electrocution.

On Monday, March 20, Mrs. Place was executed by the State of New York, having been convicted of the murder of her step daughter. The killing of a woman by the law is always a serious shock to the community, and invariably raises a question in the minds of thoughtful and sympathetic persons as to the righteousness of capital punishment. Whether the State has right to kill its murderers or not is one question. Whether or not such killing is in accordance with the principles and practices of christian civilization is quite another question. There is no doubt that legal killing is survival of barbarous times, and that when the world grows better capital punishment will cease, and will then be remembered as one of the evil incidents of a bygone age.
Neither is there any doubt in our minds that were it not for the abuse of the pardoning power in many of the States where capital punishment has been abolished, the crusade against the practice would have an infinitely greater chance of success at present. But it has come to be believed, founded on many facts, that murderers in these States now escape with a very short term of imprisonment. If the perpetual incarceration of those who kill could be made certain, a strong argument which sustains the gallows and the electric chair would cease to exist. In this particular some of the leading women suffragists of the country took a prominent part. They insisted among other things that the law of capital punishment should not be executed against women. In taking this ground they demonstrated absolutely their own capacity for the exercise of public duties, including the right of voting. In other words, they show that if they were admitted to suffrage they would add one more element—and a very large one—to that part of the population, which is increasing which fosters disrespect for law; and such disrespect, as much as anything else, is injuring our political State.

So long as the law exists, it must apply equally to all persons. There are too many privileged classes already in the community to warrant the addition of women murderers. Moreover, women would do very much more effective work against what they regard as the sin and disgrace of capital punishment if they would unite in a general movement against it, instead of devoting their energies to the saving of criminals of their sex from its operations.—Harper's Weekly.

Hope's New Romance.

Anthony Hope's new romance, which he has just finished, is called "The Countess of Pimelia," and has been purchased by The Ladies Home Journal, in which periodical it will immediately begin. The story is about a beautiful countess. She has quarreled with her husband, and they have decided to live in seclusion in separate wings of the castle. This they do untill Captain Dieppe, who becomes a member of the household, inadvertently opens a door, through which the are revealed to him the apartments of the exiled Countess, with the beautiful occupant standing in the doorway.
The Captain falls in love with the young woman, and from this point there is not a moment's cessation in the romantic adventures which ensue in the castle, its gardens and neighboring places of rendezvous.

In Memory of Dear Tom.

Dundee, Ky., March 25.—On the night of the 21st of March 1899, shortly after midnight, God saw best in his infinite wisdom to visit the home of Mr. J. M. Calloway, and take from them their beloved son and brother, Mr. Thomas W. Calloway. He was 28 years of age. He was taken the 13th with pneumonia fever. He seemed conscious that death was hovering over him as he told his brother Lon he hated to die, but in his dying hour he said he was going home. He leaves an aged father, two brothers, three sisters and a large number of friends and relatives to mourn his death. Tom was a good boy and loved by all who knew him.
A dear one from you has gone,
A voice you loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in your home
That never can be filled.
Sometime you shall see him,
You will see dear Tom again, Sleeping not among the flowers,
Where so long his form may lay.
But beyond the twilight shadow, Sure, dear Tom, there will wait, Watching for the long home coming,
Just inside the heavenly gate.
ELLA AND NOLLA.

Put Your Finger on Your Pulse

You feel the blood rushing about your body?
But what kind of blood?
That is the question.
Is it pure blood or impure blood?
If the blood is impure then you are weak and languid; your appetite is poor and your digestion is weak. You cannot sleep well and the morning finds you unprepared for the work of the day. Your cheeks are pale and your complexion is sallow. You are troubled with pimples, boils, or some eruption of the skin.
Why not purify your blood?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

will do it. Take it a few days and then put your finger on your pulse again. You can feel the difference. It is stronger and your circulation better. Send for our book on Impure Blood.
If you are bilious, take Ayer's Pills. They gently aid the Sarsaparilla. They cure constipation also.
Write to our Editors.
Write them freely all the particulars in your case. You will receive a prompt reply, without cost.

THREE MEN IN JAIL

Charged With Complicity in Murder of An Old Man Last December.

Leitchfield, Ky., April 4.—(Special) Sheriff Cardwell, of Butler county arrived here this afternoon in charge of Dent Coy, George Vetter and Monroe White, of Butler county, and lodged them in jail charged with complicity in the murder of old man Greu Embry, of the Tan Yard, this county near the Butler county line, December 24 last, which at the time created great excitement in that locality.
There were ten men in the party who called out Embry and shot him in his doorway. The cause of the deed has always been a mystery. It was said at the time that the gang charged Embry with keeping a disorderly house, but nearly all his neighbors have testified this to be false. A writ has been sent out for the arrest of the remaining seven of the gang. Dent Coy, it is said, is a Baptist preacher, while Vetter and White are well known in the locality of the crime. The case promises to be an interesting one. Circuit Court is now in session and the grand jury will probably indict all the men.

Appt Quotations.

Proverbs, axioms and wise sayings have been uttered by Confucius and other wise men from time immemorial, but few people realize how many there are of them. C. I. Hood & Co., of Sarsaparilla fame, have over two thousand and they have originated the ingenious plan of serving them up in delectable shape in thousands of newspapers, with each one neatly turning a point as to the merit of their well known medicine. The extensive use of these proverbs is original and creditable to Hood & Co.

State Board of Health.

Bowlinggreen, Ky., April 1, 1899.
To Whom It May Concern:
This Board will hold an examination for applicants for certificates to practice medicine in Kentucky who are graduates from three-year schools, whose course of study does not meet the minimum requirements of the Board, at the hall of the University of Louisville, in the City of Louisville, beginning on Tuesday, April 25, 1899, according to the following schedule:

Anatomy, Tuesday, 9 to 11:30 a. m.
Physiology, Chemistry and Hygiene, Tuesday, 2 to 4:30 p. m.
Obstetrics and Gynecology, Wednesday, 9 to 11:30 a. m.
Material Medica and Therapeutics, Wednesday 2 to 4:30 p. m.
Surgery and Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs, Thursday, 9 to 11:30 a. m.
Histology and Pathology, Thursday, 2 to 4:30 p. m.
The examination will be in writing, no fee will be charged for it, and a grade of 70 will be required to pass. It will be comprehensive, but entirely fair in every respect, and the reach of any recent graduate qualified to practice medicine with safety to our people.
Very respectfully,
J. M. MATHEWS, M. D., Pres.
J. N. MCCORMACK, M. D., Secretary.

THE HUDGINS PUB. CO., 44 Keiser Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Saturday, APRIL 1, '99.

Was a good day with us. Our opening was largely attended, and our opening sales highly satisfactory. Dress Goods for Spring wear were exhibited to admiring crowds and numbers of PATTERNS with TRIMMINGS were sold.

The Millinery Department was crowded and numbers of nice EASTER HATS were sold to purchasers over the counter and numbers were sent out by mail and express.

The BOYS also carried away numbers of nice EASTER SUITS and had them for Sunday wear. These Departments are fuller than usual.

The different markets have been ransacked for the styles, and STYLES are important, because a lady does not want to go to the expense of a new dress out of old goods and by an old pattern. So in hats. So in clothing.
LADIES are especially invited to examine our stocks before making purchases.

These lines are replenished all along as the season advances and the demand call.

There are SPECIALTIES. And handling Specialties we think we can please in price and style.

In General lines of Staples we are HEADQUARTERS, ready to supply every demand, and at best and lowest rates. It is not necessary to quote prices. If you want VALUES and want them right, call on us. Bring your wagons. Haul us Corn, Hams, Sides, Eggs, Feathers—all you have—get top prices and take home a full line of supplies.

FURTHER—Our Housekeepers' Outfit should attract attention. Everything needed can be bought in one bill and at prices to suit the purchaser.

FARMERS are invited to come for SEEDS, FERTI-LIZERS, Plows, Wagons, Harness and general supplies.

We have no "catch-penny" jobs. We want your trade, either in barter or Cash. Respectfully,

Hoecker & Co.

NOTICE for the Benefit of the PUBLIC!

Cyclone at Barrett's Ferry, Ky.,

Has rushed in on G. B. Miles' Entire Stock of Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Groceries and Gents' Furnishing Goods and has blown the Prices Down Below Zero. I have enlarged and repaired my house and am now in better position to give my customers bargains than I have ever been since I have been in business. I began business 2 1/2 years ago with a $150.00 stock. I have increased to $1,500.00 and owe the praise of same to my customers. When I first began I sold at 25 and 30 percent profit. I went on that way some time and reduced my profits to 15 and 25 percent, and then reduced to 12 1/2 percent, and have gained sufficient trade by each transaction to make more money by the latter and now I propose to reduce my profits again to 8 percent. This looks small and some will say that I can't do this nor won't do it, but I will show my bills and do what I say and will also explain why I can do it.

FIRST—Bear in mind that I get salary enough from the railroad company as agent for them and from the postoffice to pay all my family expenses and rent.

SECOND—By this reduction I will gain trade sufficient that I can discount my bills and the discount will pay the freight on my goods and put them in the shelves.

THIRD—My receipts now are $400.00 a month and at 12 1/2 percent I make clear $50.00 a month and now if I can get my trade doubled and my receipts run $800.00 a month, you see I will clear at 8 percent, $64.00 and save my customers money and make $14.00 more myself. So you see I can do what I propose.

I will pay the Highest Prices for Produce at all times and want 10,000 ties by the first of July, for which I will pay 25c and 25c, one half cash and balance in trade on delivery or 20c and 25c cash on delivery.

Consult Your Minds And Each Other

And come and price my goods before buying and I will show you that you can save money and get the Best Goods that you ever bought for the money. I have the nicest line of Shoes and Hats that ever has been brought to Barrett's Ferry, and at prices that will make them fit neat and nice.

Calicoes that will soon be out of season must go at 3c a yard and values in everything that I carry. 200 No. 7 sugar for $1.00. Arkuckle coffee at 11c. Thanking you for past favors and soliciting a continuance of same, I am, yours always ready to please.

G. B. MILES.

These Prices Begin February 20, 1899, and continue balance of the year.

Tribute by the Nation.

Washington Peace Jubilee Honors Nation's Heroes.

ANNIVERSARY REVELRIES.

Admiral Dewey's Victory in the Orient.

TRIO OF DAYS AND NIGHTS.

It Will be Given Over to a Celebration of the Return of Peace to the Country.

Washington, April 2.—No festival yet held in this, the nation's city of festivals, has ever been attempted upon a scale approaching, in splendor or novelty, that arranged for the nation at peace jubilee, to occur here during three nights of next month. The occasion will be the tribute to the entire nation, not of a city, to the soldiers and sailors who have won its recent victories. The national review held here at the close of the civil war, though utterly different from what is now being arranged for, it is the only event in history with which it can be compared.

Washington, always beautiful, never looks so charming as in the month of May. The ideal place and season have been selected for Uncle Sam's great revelries.

BEGINNING OF FESTIVITIES.

Thursday, May 23, will be the first of three eventful days in the history of the national capital. Just as the rising sun throws its first spark against the great capitol dome the thousands sleeping in the city below will be startled from their couches by the roar and thunder of 13 guns fired by a fleet of warships anchored in the Potomac. Before the echoes shall have lost themselves behind the horizon the chimes old Metropolitan, the church of Grant and McKinley, will commence a loud outpouring of the nation's sacred anthems of war and liberty.

Long before 2 o'clock, the hour set for the military and naval parade, hundreds of people will have gathered in the strip of avenue separating the White House from Lafayette square, which will have been converted into a court of honor, constructed after designs purely original. As the great pageant marches through this space it will pass beneath three triumphal arches, each of which, it is proposed, will consist of a stack of three colossal muskets, 60 feet high, represented with bayonets fixed and bells thrown on. Midway in the space the President will review the procession from a stand which, unless present expectations fail, is to be a fac simile of the prow of a vessel of war, extending from the fence of the executive park outward to the curb of the wide pavement fronting it. To be more realistic, a turret and fighting top will tower from the rear of the deck, made spacious enough for the chairs of a large party. On either side of the President's stand it is the plan to provide generous spaces for distinguished reviewing officials, such as the diplomatic corps and the members of congress.

GRAND FIREWORKS DISPLAY.

The night features of this first day of the jubilee will be a public reception by the President, band concerts upon the south portico of the treasury department, overlooking Pennsylvania avenue, and upon the terrace of the capitol, a grand illumination of Pennsylvania avenue, Lafayette square, F. Seventh, Ninth and other streets, of all government buildings and of the monument, and finally, a grand fireworks display in the monument grounds. It has been decided to engage for the three nights of the jubilee the great war displays of fireworks presented by Pain at Manhattan Beach, and including "The Battle of Manila Bay," "The Battle of San Juan Hill," and "The Battle Before Santiago." A hundred thousand people will be able to view these in the monument grounds without cost. It is also hoped that search lights can be mounted in the top of the monument and upon the dome of the capitol for each evening.

On the second jubilee day, Wednesday, the 24th, the ceremonies will commence at 10 o'clock in the morning with a parade of school children from all public, private and sectarian schools of the city, bearing banners, flags, garlands, etc. The little one will form their lines in the Smithsonian grounds or the judiciary square, parade Pennsylvania avenue, counter-march, pass in review of the President and retire to the grounds south of the White House, where the old time May day exercises will be repeated, with May poles, ribbons, wreaths and garlands.

At 2 o'clock the spectator will resume their places to review a second parade of flower-decorated private equipages of all kinds and cycles, which will pass in review of judges selected to award prize ribbons or medals.

THE CROWNING EVENT.

The crowning event of the third and last day, if not of the entire festival, will be a gorgeous historical pageant, requiring hundreds of soldiers, sailors and horses. It will be a representation in chronological order, of the great war epochs of our history. The tableaux are to be composed only of well trained men, the moving characters by others experienced in military drill. Following a few floats devoted to the exploits of Columbus will appear revolutionary soldiers bearing the war flags of the period, conspicuously the "Don't Tread on Me," the "Liberty or Death," the Bunker Hill flag, the Royal Savage and others.

Gen. Washington and his revolutionary staff, mounted will be followed by Morgan riflemen, in their green hunting jackets, brown breeches, leggings, gingham shirts, powder horns, flint locks and wigs. There will also be in line detachments of revolutionary infantry, artillery and sailors. A conspicuous feature of the epochal display will be a moving production of the celebrated picture, "The Spirit of '76," showing an old man in knickerbockers and handkerchief head playing a fife between two drummer boys. The revolutionary period will be concluded by a large float representing Washington crossing the Delaware.

The second war with Great Britain will be illustrated, first, by Gen. Andrew Jackson and staff, mounted, followed by appropriate soldiers and sailors of the period, and lastly, by a float bearing an animated copy of the great painting, "The Battle of Lake Erie," which hangs in the capitol. Gen. Zachary Taylor and staff, mounted, soldiers, sailors and a magnificent tableau float, depicting Taylor refusing Santa Ana's demand for surrender will represent the Mexican war epoch.

Interpersed with actual war heroes will follow three magnificent floats, picturing the principal events in the last war chapter of our history.

At the conclusion of the historical pageant patriotic addresses upon non-partisan topics, suggested by the war, will be delivered by the most distinguished orators who can be here at the time. Among those to be invited are Col. William J. Bryan, Senator Depey, Gen. Joe Wheeler and Henry Cabot Lodge.

After the usual display of fireworks and band concerts the great three days' festival will be known the jubilee revelries, at convention hall, one of the largest single floor spaces in the world. No one unmasked and not in fancy or grotesque costume will be allowed upon the floor. The king of the jubilee, previously chosen, will appear now for the first time, mounted upon a lofty throne and surrounded by a court of gorgeously clad nobles. After the guests have been presented to his majesty he will descend and mix with the common herd the floor being cleared for a grand masked ball. The king of the jubilee, as well many of the principal characters in the historical pageant, are to be either distinguished men or those who have purchased the privileges by generous contribution to the jubilee fund. Floor privileges for the grand hall will be sold at a high figure, while spectators alone will have to pay as much as $5 for admittance. The jubilee committee expects to expend at least $50,000 for the festival, while the great civic organizations and other outside participants will probably do the same.

"Peace Hath Her Victories

No less renowned than war," said Milton, and now, in the Spring, is the time to get a peaceful victory over the impurities which have been accumulating in the blood during Winter's hearty eating. The banner of peace is borne aloft by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It brings rest and comfort to the weary body racked by pains of all sorts and kinds. Its beneficial effects prove it to be the great specific to be relied upon for victory. Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Scrofula—"Running scrofula sores made me shunned by neighbors. Medical treatment failed. A relative urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Did so and in few months the sores completely healed." Mae J. M. Harlow, Kima, N. H.

Cataract—"Disagreeable catarhal droppings in my throat made me nervous and dizzy. My liver was torpid. Hood's Sarsaparilla corrected both troubles. My health is very good." Mae, Kivua J. Sutter, 171 Main St., Auburn, Maine.

Tumor—"A tumor as big as a large marble came under my tongue and instead of letting my physician operate on it, I used my favorite spring tonic, Hood's Sarsaparilla. The tumor soon disappeared." Mrs. H. M. Cozart, 8 Union St., Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Mr. Zeh W. Shultz, Narrows, was in town a few days the first of the week. Mr. Shultz is one of our most successful farmers and many persons think he owns the finest body of land of its sized in Ohio county. Mr. Shultz owns 500 acres of land on the south bank of Rough river opposite the village of Narrows, over acre of which will produce abundant harvests.

The Floating Studio will leave Hartford about the first week in May, and go to Rochester and will remain there three weeks; then to Paradise for ten days; then to Rockport, and from Rockport we will make stops at Ceralvo, Smallhouse, Kirtley's Landing and Pleasant. If in need of Enlarging in best grades only, wait for us. Remember our Photo Buttons are the fad of the day.

In the death of Mr. J. J. Sep Brown, of near Rochester, the county lost one of its most successful and prosperous and best citizens. Mr. Brown was in Hartford about two weeks before his death apparently sound and well. A severe attack of pneumonia was the cause of his untimely death. His remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground Monday in the presence of a host of grief stricken relatives and friends.

Hartford streets are covered with a net work of telephone wires. Most of the business houses and many residences are joined together by wire and it is one continuous "Hello" from breakfast until bedtime. The exchange is located in McIntire's restaurant, and under the supervision of Mrs. Sturgeon a very pleasant and courteous lady. Dr. E. W. Ford and Mr. Moses Mattingly deserve great credit for bringing about this much needed enterprise.

Mrs. J. W. Ross died of consumption at her home here last Saturday morning. Mrs. Ross had been a resident of our town only a few weeks, but in that short time had made many friends. Her condition was not thought to be so serious and her untimely death was both a shock and a surprise to the people of Hartford. She was a noble christian woman and a devoted wife. Her remains were taken to Rockport for interment Sunday. The REPUBLICAN extends condolence to the bereaved husband.

Mr. William G. Miller died at his home in Calhoun last Thursday. Heart failure was the immediate cause of his death but probably aggravated by an operation which was performed about two weeks since for hernia. Apparently he had most recovered from the effects of the operation and was contemplating an early visit to his brother, our esteemed County Judge. Mr. Miller was born and reared near Rosine in this county, and has many relatives and friends who will be saddened to receive the sad message.

Special Session.

At a special session of the Ohio Fiscal Court held in Hartford last Monday arrangements were made to improve the road between this point and Beaver Dam, and $250 were appropriated for that purpose. The Hartford and Beaver Dam road has always been a menace to the traveling public during the winter season, but for the last three months has been almost impassable. The road should be put in good condition during the early summer and thereby avert the muddy disaster of another winter.

Mr. Lawrence Klein died at his home in Hartford Sunday morning of congestion of the brain. He had been seriously ill for more than a week and since Thursday evening his death was hourly expected. Rev. G. I. Bean conducted the funeral exercises after which his remains were interred in Oakwood Cemetery. Lawrence was the only son in the family of Mr. George Klein and was the idol of the household. His virtues were attested by the universal sorrow at his death. May God's holy angel who bore the young man's spirit home to heaven, return chatting some celestial melody that will heal the wounded hearts of the sorrowing family and cheer them on to that glad day of their grand reunion above.

WITHOUT WARNING.

Judge T. L. Davis Succumbs to a Sudden Attack of Heart Failure.

We are indebted to Mrs. A. D. Hayes, of Fordville, for the following extract from an Eureka, Kansas, paper, announcing the death of her brother, Judge T. L. Davis, the subject of the sketch. Judge Davis was born and reared here and has many friends among the elder citizens of Hartford, who will regret to learn of his death.

"The community was greatly shocked last Thursday evening by the sudden and wholly unexpected death of Judge T. L. Davis, which occurred at about 9 o'clock. It is the prevailing opinion that death was due to heart failure, although it is possible that apoplexy may have been the cause. Funeral services were Saturday afternoon at the family residence and were attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. Rev. C. E. Creager officiated assisted by Rev. J. S. Gould.

"Thomas Lawton Davis was born at Hartford, Ohio county, Kentucky, October 17th, 1841. He studied law at an early age and was elected prosecuting attorney of his county before reaching the age of twenty-one. In 1864 Mr. Davis was a presidential elector on the Lincoln ticket and soon afterwards removed to Washington, D. C., where he entered the employment of the government and where on July 2nd 1868, he was married to Miss Sallie Catherine Henry. Subsequently he held responsible federal positions at New Orleans, La., and Petersburg, Va., and finally located at Evansville, Indiana, in the practice of law. After two years at Evansville, Mr. Davis decided to remove further west and in 1873, located with his family at Eureka, Kan.

"During his residence here of twenty-five years the deceased established a reputation as lawyer and orator of unexcelled ability. He was the republican nominee for judge of the 13th judicial district in 1896, but was defeated.

Mr. Davis was a genius, a man of ardent temperament and most indulgent with his family by whom he was idolized. His attachments were strong, and the line dividing his friends from those who were not, was clearly defined. He was a man of magnificent appearance and great force; his talents, dignified bearing and courtly manner would have graced any position, however exalted.

"The bereaved relatives are the wife, two sons, two daughters, an aged mother, three brothers and a sister. To these in their great and irreparable loss most sincere sympathy is extended."

Some Novel Statistics.

A delver into statistics has discovered the awful probability that in the year of grace 1898 the English-speaking peoples of the earth produced no less than eighty novels throughout the twelve months, not excepting Sundays and holidays. His conclusions, says Literature, published by Harper & Brothers, are not based upon his experience as a reader, but on the surer basis of expert calculation. Fifty novels a day were actually published in Great Britain, and three per diem in the United States—a total of eight daily for the new Brotherhood. And as only one novel in ten that are written is published, ergo 20,000 were produced.

have been shown to Sir Walter Besant, but if they do come to his notice it is not impossible to hope that he may relent somewhat in his stony attitude towards the rapacious publisher. When he realizes that the publishers in rejecting 26,220 novels have deprived their coffers of the gold to be taken from 26,220 victims, who, at five guineas apiece, would have netted many dollars, and have at the same time spared the public much in the way of reading that might have proven a trial—to say naught of the restriction of the competition between the published—surely the cockles of his outraged heart must warm towards those whom he has hitherto so unreservedly condemned.

CERALVO KY.

The Quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church South was held at this place Thursday and Friday, Elder Elgan presiding.

Leo, the four year old son of Mr. L. P. Fulkerson died March the 25th.

Miss Beale Smith, of Paradise, visited relatives near here Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. J. H. Kimmel Paradise is visiting her daughter Mrs. George Casler.

Mr. Lucian Kimmel of near here has moved to McHenry.

Mr. Shelly Kimmley son of Marion Kimmley died Tuesday after a short illness.

Mr. V. D. Fulkerson our merchant is in very bad health.

Mr. Thomas Batchelor who has been in the army in Cuba has returned home.

Our town was both shocked and saddened over the death of little Leo Fulkerson son of L. P. Fulkerson who was born December 1894 and fell asleep in Jesus March 25th 1899. He was sick only a few days when God saw best to take him home to join his little brother who preceded him only a few months and where sin and temptation can never reach him. He was such a bright sweet little fellow, he was the affection of many friends.

Farewell dear little Leo,
Our hearts were knit to thine,
The memory of thy little life Around our hearts entwined.

We will miss thee dearest one,
From thy familiar place,
We cannot hear thy footsteps more, Nor see thy cheerful face.

Thou only sleep to wake again,
In brighter climes of bliss above, Freed from every sin and pain,
To revel in a Savior's love.

Again we hope to meet you,
When life's short journey's o'er,
We hope to meet you there,
On Heaven's eternal shore.

We extend our sympathies to the bereaved ones, and may they all be prepared to meet those little angels around the great white throne. B.

Success comes to those who persevere. If you take Hood's Sarsaparilla faithfully and persistently, you will surely be benefited.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Friday morning A. C. Taylor was a most welcome visitor.

Mr. W. S. Young has been confined to his room this week with throat trouble.

Mr. Jesse Bean spent Tuesday afternoon visiting the school.

Mr. Robert Wedding is again in school after two weeks absence.

Mr. A. P. Taylor's department is undergoing a very rigid examination this week, as this is the last week of the public school.

Mr. J. D. Miller was absent from school Tuesday on account of illness.

Mrs. J. S. Wedding and little son, Walter Renfrow, were welcome visitors Thursday morning.

This week ends the eight months of public school. Much hard work has been done by the pupils during the past months, and they will fully enjoy the vacation which is so near at hand. Many of the pupils will keep on with their work until June, under the efficient management of Prof. A. P. Taylor.

The four April issues of the Youth's Companion will contain a number of special articles and stories engaged last year for the 1899 volume. In the issue for the week of April 6th will appear "The Flood in Number Three" in which Homer Greaves recalls an instance of the heroism of miners. The issue of the week of April 13th will contain Sir Clements Markham's article with the fascinating title, "Opportunities for young explorers," and first installment of Charles Adam's story of "A Boy's Fox-Yard." Hon. Carol D. Wright's article "Where Living is Cheapest," will appear in the issue of the week of April 20th, and in that for April 27th Surgeon-General Wyman will describe the United States quarantine service in an article entitled, "Maritime Quarantine."

Deeds and Mortgages.

Since there seems to be a popular idea that the law fixes a period of 60 or 90 days during which a deed or mortgage is valid without record we quote section 496 Kentucky Statute:

"No deed or deed of trust or mortgage conveying a legal or equitable title to real or personal estate shall be valid against a purchaser for a valuable consideration without notice thereof, or against creditors until such deed shall be acknowledged or recorded according to law and judged proved."

SPRING ANNOUNCEMENT

A word to Judicious Buyers Concerning the Needs of the Season.

Whatever else the Spring and Summer of 1899 may have in store for you, it certainly offers you the Golden Opportunity to buy the very best goods cheap. We enter the season with a line of attractions that will command the respect and admiration of all on account of their

Elegance, Style and Quality

And offer them at prices lower than you have ever before enjoyed for goods of equal merit and worth. Regarding the opportunities for selection, we do not think you have ever looked over a better assorted stock. It is intensely practical, consisting wholly of popular styles and reliable goods. We do not wish it understood by this that our stock is at all weak in

Exhibition of New Styles.

On the contrary, it was never more attractive in its profusion of new novelties of the practical, desirable kind that will supply your needs perfectly. When it comes to quality we speak of the matter with special pride. It is the fundamental principle of our business.

To Sell Reliable Goods!

We carry all grades, to be sure. Of course some are much finer than others, but that is what you want a chance to select according to the use you propose to make of the article purchased, but no matter whether you buy from our finest or our cheapest grade you are sure to get an honest value for your money. A judge of goods will certainly give us credit for good intentions when he looks over our entire line with an eye to quality. They are all honest—first-class—productions that will speak for themselves. In conclusion, we earnestly invite you to call and prove our claim for your patronage by an unprejudiced and critical

Inspection of Our Stock.

We expect no one to give us a dollar's worth of trade unless they see that their interests are advanced by the transaction. Asking for your patronage on the promise that you will certainly be benefited thereby, we remain, very truly yours, are faithfully portrayed in the original and exclusive cable dispatches which THE CHICAGO RECORD prints daily from the leading capitals of the old world. This magnificent special service is in process of being greatly extended so as to include every important city in Europe; and it is supplemented by the full regular cable service of The Associated Press.

The Affairs of Europe

The Chicago Record, alone of all American newspapers outside New York city, now prints original and exclusive cable dispatches daily from the leading capitals of Europe.

$200.00 Given Away.

Separate Beautiful Full-Color Cards and use the letters to form as many words as you can, using the letters backwards or forwards, but don't use any letter in the word more times than it appears in "Beautiful Flowers." It is said forty English words can be spelled correctly from these sixteen letters. For example—tea, feet, etc. The Hamill Seed Company will pay Two Hundred Dollars cash to the person sending them forty words formed as above. If you are good at word making and can form forty words write your name and address plainly on your list and enclose the same with fifteen two cent stamps for ten packets of Beautiful Flower Seeds of ten popular and different varieties.

Our object in giving this Two Hundred Dollars is to attract attention to and introduce our seeds in the U. S. This offer will be carefully and conscientiously carried out and it should not be classed with catch-penny affairs. We will spend a large amount of money to start our trade and want your trial order; you receive the greatest value in seeds ever offered. If two or more persons succeeded in forming forty words the $200 will be divided pro rata. Many extra special prizes of value will be awarded to persons sending twenty-five words or more who will assist in introducing our seeds and specialties.

Satisfaction is absolutely guaranteed. Send your list as early as possible. Address Hamill Seed Co., 965 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

NOTICE.

I will not be in my office from April 13 to April 30 inclusive, as I have been business with me should either come in before or after the dates mentioned.
